

*Sherbet*Sunshine Flannel*

by Corey Yoder of Coriander Quilts

Usually when I begin introducing quilters to a fabric line, I chat about the collection, including the colors and prints and how I dreamed everything up. While I could chat about the dreamy colors of this line, Sherbet Sunshine Flannels (aptly named), I could also mention all the flower-filled prints mixed with the sweetest geometrics: stripes, gingham, plaids, and diamonds.

However, my favorite part of bringing this collection to life came when my 1-year-old niece saw Sherbet Sunshine Flannels for the first time. She grabbed one of the fabrics from the box and rubbed it gently on her cheek. Then, she set that one to the side and reached for another to rub on her cheek. She continued piece by piece; each one receiving the softness seal of approval from the little miss.

It's my hope that you enjoy these fabrics as much as Olive does. They were such fun to create for all of you and I hope they bring you joy! Corey
